About the Workshop

DATE : 22 ND AUGUST, 2026
TIME : 10 AM ONWARDS

VENUE : SEMINAR HALL,
NEF LAW COLLEGE

This One-Day National Workshop serves as a premier interdisciplinary forum for legal scholars, forensic scientists, and practitioners to evaluate the evolving scientific and statutory paradigms in the criminal justice system. The workshop bridges the gap between emerging laboratory technologies and judicial decision-making through three foundational pillars:

- The Police as Custodians of the Crime Scene: Scrutinizing the critical protocols of first-response management, evidence preservation, and chain of custody to protect biological and digital data from vulnerability.
- The Forensic Expert as the Objective Interpreter: Analyzing the role of the expert witness in leveraging breakthroughs—like next-gen DNA sequencing, handwriting analysing, cyber-forensics, and advanced ballistics—to translate complex laboratory data into legally sound, reproducible court evidence.
- The Judge as the Ultimate Gatekeeper of Justice: Evaluating the judiciary's role in balancing scientific probability with legal certainty, filtering out "junk science," and ensuring novel forensic techniques align with constitutional safeguards and procedural due process.

Effective criminal prosecution relies heavily on the meticulous collection and preservation of forensic evidence. Too often, improper crime scene management compromises critical data, leading to the acquittal of the guilty. Furthermore, presenting complex forensic evidence in court requires specialized skills and technical knowledge. This workshop addresses these critical vulnerabilities, offering a dedicated learning platform where stakeholders can bridge these operational gaps through hands-on insights from seasoned forensic experts.
