About The NorthCap University

Established in 1996 and formerly known as ITM University, The NorthCap University (NCU) is a progressive, multidisciplinary institution located in the heart of Gurugram, Haryana. With a heritage spanning 30 years and a community of over 15,000 alumni, NCU maintains strong collaborations with government bodies, industry leaders, and research organisations. The university is recognised by the University Grants Commission (UGC) under 12(B) status, the Bar Council of India (BCI), and is accredited by NAAC as a Grade 'A' institution and by ASIC, UK as a 'Premier Institution'. It ranks among the Top 30 Best-Performing Universities under ARIIA and holds a 5-star QS Ranking for Teaching, Employability, Academic Development, Inclusiveness, and Online Learning. NCU's commitment to academic excellence, research, innovation, and entrepreneurship is further reflected in its QS I-GAUGE Diamond rating, with a Platinum Badge for Engineering and Gold Badges for both Management and Law. Guided by renowned academicians and industry leaders, the university offers undergraduate, postgraduate, and doctoral programmes through an immersive pedagogical approach, and provides students with opportunities for global semester exchanges, twin and dual degree programmes, and international research collaborations through its extensive network of university partnerships.

About School of Law

The School of Law at The NorthCap University offers the BBA.LL.B. (5-year), LL.B. (3-year), LL.M. (1-year), and Ph.D. programmes in Law, equipping students with the knowledge, skills, and professional acumen needed to navigate the evolving demands of the legal profession. Ranked among the best private law schools in Delhi/NCR, the school is recognised by the Bar Council of India and has been awarded the QS I-GAUGE Gold Badge. As a further testament to its academic distinction, it has been ranked No. 1 Law School in the State of Haryana by the Global Human Resource Development Centre (GHRDC), New Delhi. The school is supported by state-of-the-art classrooms, dedicated moot courtrooms, well-equipped legal research centres, and extensive libraries with a vast collection of legal resources. It is distinguished by a diverse and dynamic student and faculty body that fosters a rich environment of learning and exchange, an extensive mentorship programme connecting students with experienced legal professionals for guidance on career development and academic pursuits, and an industry-ready curriculum that integrates clinical legal education, internships, and externships to ensure practice-oriented learning. Students are also offered meaningful opportunities for international exchange programmes, global collaborations, and participation in international moot court competitions, providing them with a well-rounded, globally informed legal education.

About the Programme

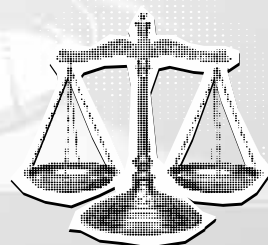

The contemporary higher education landscape is undergoing rapid transformation driven by technological advancements, regulatory reforms, evolving pedagogical approaches, and heightened expectations around research excellence. Faculty members today are required not only to possess domain expertise but also to continuously adapt to emerging developments in teaching methodologies, legal frameworks, research practices, and digital innovation.

The integration of Artificial Intelligence into educational ecosystems, the enactment of India's new labour and criminal laws, growing imperatives around corporate governance and compliance, increasing emphasis on externally funded research, and the demand for innovative pedagogy collectively necessitate ongoing professional development among educators.

In response to these imperatives, the School of Law, The NorthCap University, is organising a Faculty Development Programme titled "Future-Ready Academia: Bridging Law, Technology, Research & Pedagogy" from 18 to 25 July 2026. The programme offers a multidisciplinary platform for academicians, researchers, legal professionals, and industry experts to deliberate on contemporary developments shaping higher education and professional practice.

Objectives

- Introduce AI's role in curriculum design, teaching, assessment, and research
- Enhance understanding of India's new Labour Codes and workplace governance
- Examine reforms under India's new Criminal Laws (Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita, Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita, Bharatiya Sakshya Adhiniyam)
- Provide insights into corporate law, governance, compliance, and business regulations
- Strengthen research capabilities through sponsored research proposal writing
- Introduce innovative pedagogical approaches for enhanced student engagement
- Foster interdisciplinary dialogue among educators, researchers, and policymakers

Session Themes:

Day 1: 22 October, 2026

Session I: Integrating Artificial Intelligence into Higher Education Curriculum: Pedagogical Innovations and Future-Ready Learning

This session will explore the transformative role of Artificial Intelligence in higher education and its implications for curriculum design, teaching methodologies, assessment practices, and academic research. Participants will be introduced to AI-driven educational tools, generative AI applications, personalized learning systems, and emerging pedagogical frameworks. The session will also address ethical concerns, academic integrity, and responsible AI adoption, enabling faculty members to effectively integrate AI into teaching-learning processes while preparing students for the evolving digital landscape.

Day 2: 23 October, 2026

Session II: India's New Labour Codes: Emerging Challenges and Workplace Transformation

The session will provide a comprehensive understanding of India's labour law reforms through the four Labour Codes and their impact on employment relations, social security, industrial disputes, and workplace governance. Deliberations will focus on contemporary compliance requirements, rights and obligations of employers and employees, protection of gig and platform workers, and emerging challenges in implementation. The session will assist faculty members in updating their knowledge of labour jurisprudence and incorporating recent developments into teaching and research.

Day 3: 24 October, 2026

Session III: Reforms and Emerging Developments after the Enactment of India's New Criminal Laws

This session aims to provide an overview of the key reforms and developments that have emerged following the enactment of the Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita, Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita, and Bharatiya Sakshya Adhiniyam. The discussion will focus on significant changes in criminal procedure, evidentiary standards, use of technology and forensic science, victim-centric provisions, and the practical challenges encountered during implementation. The session will also examine early judicial responses and emerging trends in criminal justice administration, enabling participants to appreciate the impact of these legislative reforms on legal education, research, and practice.

Day 4: 26 October, 2026

Session IV: Contemporary Corporate Law and Governance: Navigating Regulatory and Business Challenges

The session will address recent developments in corporate law, corporate governance standards, regulatory compliance, and emerging business challenges in the digital economy. Key themes will include board governance, corporate accountability, ESG frameworks, shareholder rights, insolvency mechanisms, startup regulation, and technology-driven business models. Faculty members will gain valuable insights into contemporary corporate regulatory practices and emerging research opportunities in the field of business and corporate law.

Day 5: 27 October, 2026

Session V: Crafting High-Impact Research Proposals: Strategies for Academic Excellence and Research Funding

This session is designed to strengthen research capacity among faculty members by focusing on the essential components of a successful research proposal. Discussions will include identifying research gaps, developing research questions, selecting appropriate methodologies, preparing budgets, understanding funding agency expectations, and enhancing proposal competitiveness. The session will provide practical guidance for securing research grants and promoting high-quality interdisciplinary research aligned with national and international priorities.

Day 6: 28 October, 2026

Session VI: Innovative Pedagogies in Higher Education: Transforming Teaching and Learning

This session will explore contemporary pedagogical approaches that are redefining teaching and learning in higher education. The discussion will focus on learner-centric teaching methods, outcome-based education, experiential and project-based learning, flipped classrooms, case-study methods, and the effective integration of technology in academic instruction. Emphasis will be placed on fostering critical thinking, creativity, collaboration, and student engagement in diverse learning environments. The session will provide faculty members with practical insights into adopting innovative teaching strategies that enhance learning outcomes, improve classroom effectiveness, and align educational practices with the evolving needs of twenty-first-century learners.
